

At the meeting of the representatives of the chambers of commerce in the second meeting of the chambers of commerce, members of the Asian Cooperation Dialogue Forum (ACD) were raised

The desire of countries to expand the trade relations of the old continent

At the meeting of representatives of the chambers of commerce in the second meeting of the chambers of commerce members of the Asia Cooperation Dialogue Forum (ACD) in Isfahan, the members discussed the ways to expand interactions between them in this meeting, it was emphasized on the simultaneous observance of economic development, social development and environmental protection for the member countries to achieve sustainable development and prosperity, comfort and progress as much as possible. Also, the four axes of the summit roundtables, which include "new technologies", "tourism", "food security and agriculture" and "sustainable development", were explained so that the members could present their approach in this regard to reduce tensions and increase solidarity.

The need for chambers of commerce to use artificial intelligence to generate wealth

Amir Keshani, the head of Isfahan Chamber of Commerce, Industries, Mines and Agriculture stated in this meeting: Asia is a continent with cultural, linguistic, religious, demographic, racial, economic and social diversity and greater solidarity between the chambers of commerce of the countries of this vast continent can lead to Increase peace and sustainable development.

Emphasizing that the main task of chambers of commerce is to help people become richer, he added: Chambers can achieve this goal by redefining their duties in different areas of artificial intelligence attack. Keshani announced in the presence of the representatives of ACD member chambers of commerce that Isfahan is ready to host any events that will help in fulfilling the seventh paragraph of the first conference of the assembly in Istanbul.

Chambers of commerce should be flexible in response to the needs of industries

Also, the Secretary General of the Federation of Emirates Chambers of Commerce, stating that the task of the Chamber of Commerce is networking, which takes a lot of time, said: Networking should be based on dialogue and we can harmonize our new views in this field; Because if we want to move forward from the previous paths, we will definitely not reach the result. He pointed out: The Chamber of Commerce is a club that is different from private positions and must manage the banking system, agriculture and industry separately and flexibly respond to the needs of each.

The representative of the UAE Chamber of Commerce requested the representatives of the chambers of commerce of the Asia Cooperation Forum to share their experiences from the second meeting of these representatives with others and learn from each other.

Tariffs should be determined in the assembly area

The representative of the Chamber of Commerce of Mongolia thanked Isfahan for hosting the meeting and said: Mongolia with a population of 3.4 million people has high economic capacities and can trade with Asian countries in many areas such as the gold industry.

He emphasized: the representatives should be able to convince their governments to determine and announce the tariffs in the area of the forum, so that we can form a suitable approach in the economic relations between the member countries of the forum based on that.

Hold the meeting every 4 months

The representative of the Pakistan Chamber of Commerce also appreciated the number of attendees at the summit and emphasized that his country has provided investment opportunities to all countries and has made good progress in the field of information technology and agriculture. Emphasizing the necessity of networking between the member countries, he demanded to facilitate the relations between the representatives of the chambers of commerce.

According to the representative of Pakistan, if this does not happen, the cooperation of Asian countries will face problems; Therefore, it is necessary to form a mechanism for cooperation and even hold such summits every four months to evaluate the issues and opportunities.

The assembly should support Palestine

Mohammad Zhair, the Consul General of the Palestinian Embassy in Tehran, thanked Isfahan for inviting the guests to such a wonderful meeting and described the conditions of his country and further said: If I want to talk about the economy of my country, everything is destroyed and we need the support of neighboring countries to Let's solve our problems.

He added: We are experiencing many deaths and destruction; Therefore, what we are looking for in this summit is to get the support of the member countries of the Asian Cooperation Dialogue Forum.

The need to know the difference between laws and global markets

The member of the delegation of the Qatar National Chamber also emphasized the important role of the private sector in the economic war and added: What is happening between superpowers such as China, Russia and the United States is that the private sector plays its role in the best possible way.

He stated that if we understand each other's business language well and observe ethics, good interactions will happen, and he noted:

Qatar is a very strategic region for superpowers and we have used this to develop our relations with other countries and become an international transportation highway. As a private sector, we play the role of distribution network in this series and we look at superpower countries as a respectable partner.

The representative of the National Chamber of Qatar added: We must know how each economy differs; such as the market differentiation of Islamic countries or the difference between American and European laws; For this reason, we must research and evaluate how the private sectors can play their role more prominently.

He pointed out: the private and public sector are dependent on each other; Because both have the power to influence; Therefore, we should think about how they can increase their power; One of these ways is modern technology that makes us work across borders.

A member of the delegation of the National Chamber of Qatar said: "When we are going to deal with many problems in financial exchanges, these problems take us by the collar, so there is a need for financial and economic institutions to be based on science to play an effective role."

Kyrgyzstan can be the economic hub of Asian countries

The representative of the Kyrgyz Chamber of Commerce also announced his readiness to cooperate and attract capital in order to achieve the goals of the meeting of chambers of commerce member of the Asia Cooperation Dialogue Forum, adding: We are ready to transfer the experiences of Kyrgyzstan in the last two years regarding networking.

He pointed out the need to form committees to support investors and added: Networking is a broad issue and the facilities that our country has provided as one of the Central Asian countries can unlock the economy of Asian countries.

He pointed out: Kyrgyzstan is a gateway to Eurasia and can play a facilitating role for other countries. By being a member of the Shanghai Cooperation Organization, the Eurasian Economic Union, the World Trade Organization, etc., this country can guarantee other countries to be sure of the security of their capital.

We cannot act in traditional business

The representative of the National Chamber of Commerce and Industry of Malaysia also stated that many roles are defined for the chambers of commerce and we should be able to accept the coordination of the chambers of commerce in this regard, saying: After the spread of Corona, social networks have become an important factor in business Therefore, we cannot behave traditionally and we must reach pragmatic agreements regarding new issues.

He clarified: If we can put ourselves at the service of government policies and can create a chain between the countries of the forum, we will reach a better future. Because trade relations between countries happen very carefully.

The establishment of the secretariat of the meeting of chambers of commerce should be reviewed

Hakan Olken, a member of the delegation of the Turkish Chamber of Commerce, also said that in this country, more than two million companies cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce, and this capacity has made Turkey ready for any cooperation and expansion of activities. He requested the members to express their views on the issue of whether a secretariat is going to be established for the meeting of chambers of commerce members of the Asian Cooperation Dialogue Forum during the two days of the summit.

Form a common language between the rooms

Payam Bagheri, the representative of the Iran Chamber, also emphasized the need to pay attention to the development-oriented economy and to exploit and use the maximum capacities available in the countries, and noted that countries are successful in the field of trade that observe the coordination between supply and demand, and the chambers as a role First, in the negotiations, they should follow up the way of doing work, road map, foundation and facilitation in this area with serious plans.

He continued: The private sector of the member countries must reach a common language in their activities and act in a specific framework, and these meetings can help in this regard.

Bagheri said: Planning regarding supply and demand and adopting a common language between the chambers are two important steps in the interaction of the member countries of the forum, which the governments should also support in this regard.

Members should form working groups among themselves

Mohammad Reza Gol-Ahmad, the head of the International Council of Isfahan Chamber of Commerce, Industries, Mines and Agriculture, said: Asia has energy, tourism, natural resources, and many historical and cultural monuments. But these resources could not be used in practice; A continent that has cheap energy and abundant wealth, cheap human resources in some countries and high technical knowledge in others can be on the path of innovation and progress.

Stating that holding a summit and expressing capacities is not enough, he added: Our goal of this summit is to improve ourselves and Asia completely, and this can only be achieved if we improve the level of welfare and social indicators in Asia. So, if we want to become a powerful Asia, we must use each other's advantages. To prevent war, we must start today and know the capacity of other countries.

Increase the quality and number of assemblies

Also, Arman Yesentayev, head of the Department of Commerce and the representative of the Kazakhstan Chamber, thanked Isfahan for holding such a wonderful event and said: Chambers of Commerce play a very important role and can announce their unity to the world by increasing interactions between them and creating a bridge between businesses. do

He added: We don't know how the business environment of the member countries is; Therefore, such meetings should be held to increase the communication between the rooms; We should try much more and even on a daily basis to increase the quality and number of meetings.

Yessentayev, emphasizing that the task of the chambers is to speed up activities and support businesses that are always at risk; Therefore, chambers of commerce should be able to accept responsibility and create a suitable business environment

Strengthening regional relations should be considered

Javad Amin Mansour, advisor to the chairman of the second meeting of the Chambers of Commerce, a member of the Asian Cooperation Dialogue Forum, also said in this meeting: We must have opinions about the appropriate mechanism for stronger relations and resources for how to form relations and networking.

Emphasizing the necessity of clarifying the duties of the private sector and clarifying the tariffs, he noted: We cannot sell a single version to all countries, but we must pay attention to our common interests; Because governments need our help.

Amin Mansour pointed out the need to pay attention to sustainable development from various aspects and address new and emerging technologies: we must consider humanity and not just pay attention to our own profit, social issues and problems must also be considered; Because the effects of our activity are very important; Business can be successful if social relations are strong.

He continued: There should be proper coordination between supply and demand in trade exchanges, holding exhibitions to introduce one's activities should be expanded, participation in meetings and accommodation should be facilitated, and regional relations should be strengthened, and these decisions should be made through the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. countries to be done; Therefore, this summit provides a platform to present our views and identify common points.
